

Courses Description

College: Queen Rania'S Faculty Of Tourism& Heritage

Department: Management Of Cultural Heritage

Course ID: 902112 Description: Introduction to Hotel Management

Full Course Description: The basic knowledge regarding management of tourism destinations, services and hotels, in addition to the organizational framework and policies required to manage hotels, also a description about the historical development and categorization of hotels, standards of evaluation and supervision are also included, add to this a general idea about receptioning, services, maintenance and safety in the hotel.

Course ID: 902171 Description: Tourism Resources in Jordan

Full Course Description: Analysis of all tourism resources in Jordan, natural and cultural. Examples of the main tourist sites in Jordan. Criteria and human qualifications considered for tourist site selection.

Course ID: 902201 Description: Cultural Heritage Management (1)

Full Course Description: This course presents clear definition of cultural resources and their management. It reviews the international efforts and organizations that are concerned about the protection of the cultural heritage on international and local levels. Also, the course presents the main ideas for the planning and the management of cultural resources. In addition, the course presents the main ideas about the needed skills in communication and management of human resources. It clarifies the leadership pyramid and the decision-making process that regulates and systemizes the management program in any organization.

Course ID: 902211 Description: Informatics & Archaeology

Full Course Description: This course has two parts, theoretical and practical, the first part presents the methods in data keeping and how to design, analyze and keep a data base. It enables students to deal with statistical and digital information, and how to convert such data into an html language to be placed on the World Wide Web. The second part of this course provides students with lab training to some applications in the theoretical part.

Course ID: 902212 Description: Cultural Heritage Management (2)

Full Course Description: This course presents an overview of the international regulations and legislations concerning the protection of the cultural heritage. It presents also the standards and guidelines for all stages of CRM process such as identification, documentation, evaluation, planning, conservation, interpretation and promotion. Also the course presents advanced knowledge about the needed skills in communication and management of human resources.

Course ID: 902213 Description: Hotels Resources Management

Full Course Description: Management of different resources hotels as human and capital resources, and different goods required to supply with services, and how to make these available also enhancing employees performance.

Course ID: 902222 Description: Archaeology (2)

Full Course Description: This course offers more details about archaeology and will cover more information than the former course Archaeology (1), the course includes studying the stratigraphical sequences of the archaeological sites from the beginning until the latest occupation taking place on the site. More concentration will be focus on the content of each strata and type of artifacts in addition to their function.

Course ID: 902251 Description: Introduction to Museology

Full Course Description: Introduction to the concept of Museology and museums. Various types of museums, such as archaeology, anthropology, natural history, art, science, and open-air museums. Exhibition planning through working with designers and other specialists, and producing objects' labels and illustration panels.

Course ID: 902252 Description: Management of Museum Collections

Full Course Description: Introduction to all methods in collection management. Interpretation and Intervention to keep museum collections. Ways how to collect and buy collections. Ways how to keep and store collections. Emergency and disaster management.

Courses Description

College: Queen Rania'S Faculty Of Tourism& Heritage

Department: Management Of Cultural Heritage

Course ID: 902259 Description: Museums in Jordan

Full Course Description: Study the establishment and development of museums in Jordan through their: various types, geographical distribution, positive and negative points, visitor studies and challenges. The role of Jordanian museums in the development of communities: socially, culturally, economically, and in tourism development.

Course ID: 902271 Description: Tourism Planning

Full Course Description: A thorough overview of tourism planning at the local, regional and national levels. It provides a variety of practical planning theories, procedures and guidelines to meet the diverse needs of travelers, destination communities, tourism and hospitality organizations, public, non-governmental organizations, and the private sector.

Course ID: 902272 Description: Tourism Impact

Full Course Description: The structure of tourists' impact on natural and cultural sites, and on local communities, in addition to other impacts on social life in Jordan, this will be clarified by case studies from the world, students will be required to make reports to understand tourism impacts on sites of Jordan.

Course ID: 902273 Description: Ecotourism

Full Course Description: The definition of ecotourism, the historical development of environmental movements, principles of ecotourism and its types, different market segments of tourism, and the various kinds of environments involved, such as: marine, wildlife, polar, islands, mountains, deserts, and other types of environments.

Course ID: 902283 Description: Visitor Studies of Tourism Sites and Museums

Full Course Description: Study of visitors to tourism destinations, archeological sites and museums and the scientific methods for conducting visitors studies. Preparing tourism programs in destinations and museums and possible impacts of the visitors on the physical sites.

Course ID: 902312 Description: Cultural Heritage Management (3)

Full Course Description: This course presents detailed analyses of all related actors in the process toward a comprehensive management plan for a certain site or historic area. It focuses on the relation between conservation and management of cultural resources and development through discussing the importance of tourism and other potential economic and cultural sectors for the success of protection and management of cultural resources. Also it presents the main principles on designing legislation framework as a preventive solution within the urban planning operation. Some case studies will be given about how some areas or archaeological sites were managed through an organized management plan; such situations have

Course ID: 902313 Description: Natural Reserves Management

Full Course Description: This course offers general information about the concept of natural reserves and equivalent national parks. It provides students with the scientific methods in protecting and managing the natural reserves and their environment using analyses applications on arial photos and satellite images to all resources, water, fauna, flora and the geology on digital maps.

Course ID: 902314 Description: Travel Agencies Management

Full Course Description: Managing tourism offices and methods for preparing and designing tourism programs and stages for developing tourism services and programs and principles for marketing tourism services and products. Promoting tourism services internally and externally and factors affecting site selection for tourism offices and their branches.

Courses Description

College: Queen Rania'S Faculty Of Tourism& Heritage

Department: Management Of Cultural Heritage

Course ID: 902315 Description: Evaluation of Tourism Sites

Full Course Description: Methods for identifying and evaluating tourism destinations and heritage (tangible or intangible; movable or stagnant) based on their artistic or historical value and factors affecting their integrity. Conservation planning for heritage and revitalizing and rehabilitating it to activate its role in sustainable development.

Course ID: 902321 Description: Archaeological Sites in Jordan (1)

Full Course Description: The course starts with a brief historical sequence and an introduction to the geology and geography of Jordan, focusing on the chronology from the Stone Age to Hellenistic Period. The course will concentrate on settlement patterns in north, central and south of Jordan, and the role of pottery in developing the early community and its relationship with economy and trade.

Course ID: 902323 Description: Archaeological Sites in Jordan

Full Course Description: A brief historical sequence and introduction to the geology and geography of Jordan, focusing on the chronology from the Stone Age to Ottoman period. The course will concentrate on settlement patterns in north, central and south Jordan and the role of pottery in developing the early community and its relationship with economy and trade.

Course ID: 902331 Description: Remote Sensing in Archaeology

Full Course Description: This course consists of theoretical and practical parts. The theoretical part covers the basics and principles of remote sensing and the general characteristics of Infra-red spectrum. It introduces the different types of Satellites and other instruments used in remote sensing. The practical part includes the practical applications of digital and printed photos on drawn maps.

Course ID: 902342 Description: Documentation of Cultural Resources

Full Course Description: Scientific and practical techniques for searching and documenting verbal heritage, writings, arts (hemstitching, tattoos, carvings on stone and coins or papyrus, calligraphies, traditional stories and proverbs. Methods for protecting and managing these resources and using modern techniques for documenting and preserving them.

Course ID: 902351 Description: Museology (1)

Full Course Description: This course provides with an introduction to the concept of museology and museums. It displays the various types of museums, such as archaeology, anthropology, natural history, art, science, and open-air museums. The course also covers exhibition planning through working with designers and other specialists, and producing objects' labels and illustration panels.

Course ID: 902352 Description: Museology (2)

Full Course Description: This course provides with an introduction to museums objects and collection management. This course also aims at providing students with the basic knowledge about the museum documentation system. In addition, the course deals with museum environment control storage system and disaster management.

Course ID: 902353 Description: History of Museums

Full Course Description: Introduction to the history and development of the concepts of museum and museology during the Ancient Periods, 9th to the 12th centuries, era of Renaissance, 17th -18th Century, 19th Century and the 20th Century. The course presents also the international evolution of the protection of World Heritage. In addition, the course presents the new movements in museology and museums, and it examines the changes that led to the current state of museology and museums.

Courses Description

College: Queen Rania'S Faculty Of Tourism& Heritage

Department: Management Of Cultural Heritage

Couse ID: 902354 Description: Communication and Education in Museums

Full Course Description: Study of the different kinds of museum galleries, its design and ways of display, labeling, galleries evaluation. Theories of education in museums and its tools, policies and program organization inside and outside museums.

Couse ID: 902371 Description: Religious Tourism Management

Full Course Description: Religious tourism and its role in developing the communities and managing related activities. Introducing religious tourism sites including places of Prophets, Companions, martyrs, battle sites, Christians' sites, with concentrating on the characteristics and goals of religious tourism and methods for dealing with tourists in these sites.

Couse ID: 902381 Description: Communication Skills and Tourism Management

Full Course Description: Basic techniques for managing a destination or museum and human resources. Methods for networking with sectors concerned with heritage conservation and tourists and relations that connect these sectors with site manager. The practical part of this course trains students on these techniques through a visual and auditory recording laboratory and visits to different sites.

Couse ID: 902391 Description: Special Topics

Full Course Description: Special topics to be studied in the field of museums, cultural resources management, and tourism sites with focus on new scientific research in these fields. New and special topics have not been studied in previous courses will be covered.

Couse ID: 902402 Description: Financing & Legislation in Heritage

Full Course Description: This course is designed to collect and make widely available significant recent experience in a growing field of fundraising and legalization for cultural heritage areas. It provides students with the methods, techniques, and directed experience in fundraising practices. Theories of fund raising, donor motivation, legal issues and ethical considerations are highlighted as well. Also, this course presents the main principles on designing legislation framework as a preventive solution within the urban planning operation. Some case studies of how some areas or archaeological sites were managed through an organized management plan, which resulted from an overall Master Plan of the city or regio

Couse ID: 902411 Description: Cultural Heritage Management (4)

Full Course Description: This course presents detailed analyses of the management of human resources and how to plan for the building capacity of the site in terms of staff and visitors. Through some practical exercises, students will be asked to design a planning model for the management and protection of certain site by which applications of management theories of cultural sites could be included. The course also will focus on the control of tourism impacts on cultural sites and their local communities.

Couse ID: 902412 Description: Interpretation of Archaeological Sites

Full Course Description: This course deals with the thorough understanding and presentation of archaeological sites as well as archaeological material in context. It explores the history and evolution of the practice of archaeological interpretation and its theoretical frameworks. The course looks at how archaeologists, cultural heritage managers, tourist guides and conservators, investigate, reconstruct and present the archaeological records and sites to the public using different technologies with some applications on the field.

Couse ID: 902413 Description: Management of Historic & Archaeological Collections

Full Course Description:

Courses Description

College: Queen Rania'S Faculty Of Tourism& Heritage

Department: Management Of Cultural Heritage

Course ID: 902414 Description: Tourism Activities Management

Full Course Description: Planning for archeological activities, information collection, activities schedule, nature of the site, and total expenses. Excavation management in archeological sites and studies for identifying needs location, size, and human resources in these sites. Possible role of archeological sites in developing local communities is also discussed.

Course ID: 902421 Description: Archaeological Sites in Jordan (2)

Full Course Description: This Course offers a general introduction to the archaeological sites in Jordan. The course will focus on the following historical periods: The Classical Period which includes Roman and Byzantine sites in north central and south of Jordan. More details will be given about the Decapolis cities such as Jerash, Pella, Gadara, and Abela ... etc. In addition to a more extensive study of the Islamic sites all over Jordan; these include sites dated Umayyad, Abbasid, Ayyubid-Mamluk and Ottoman Periods. The architectural remains and their distribution in the different geographical zones will be the main issue to be discussed during the course.

Course ID: 902431 Description: Archaeological Information Systems

Full Course Description: The central focus of "Archaeological Information System" is the understanding the different components, methods and concepts of the Geographical Information System (GIS) , and its application in problems related to archaeological sites, their preservation, and management.; also how GIS can offer additional digital tools for improved CRM. Students will be exposed to the different issues of remote sensing and GPS, and how the information generated, using field soft wares such as remote sensing and AutoCAD can be used and integrated into Archaeological Information System.

Course ID: 902451 Description: Museology (3)

Full Course Description: This course aims at providing students with the basic knowledge about the visitor studies and the fundamental reasons for studying visitors. This course also aims at presenting the basis of museum management and the different skills required in museum work throughout certain examples from Jordan as a case study.

Course ID: 902452 Description: Education Through Museums

Full Course Description: The course provides students with an explanation of the educational role of the museum and the learning programs through museums. It deals with the significance of museum education and reviews the different educational theories in museums. In addition the course will present a survey of a wide range of research methods employed in visitor studies illustrated with examples taken from museums all around the world.

Course ID: 902453 Description: Museum Environment

Full Course Description: Museum environment and its different features, such as lighting, ratio of humidity, temperature. And scientific techniques for monitoring and controlling these features. And the potential impact of this environment on the displayed objects.

Course ID: 902454 Description: Museum Management

Full Course Description: a

Course ID: 902461 Description: Preparing and Designing Galleries

Full Course Description: The concepts of heritage and tourism museums and scientific and practical techniques for designing museums and methods for selecting the museum theme, its location and its establishment. Techniques for designing museums, displaying its objects, marketing, and using computers to ensure its success.

Course ID: 902481 Description: Fieldwork Training

Full Course Description: Students gain practical skills in museums or heritage and tourism sites through a full or part time work in an approved museum or heritage sites under close supervision of senior staff. Students should apply all theoretical skills he/she studied in the department courses.

Courses Description

College: Queen Rania'S Faculty Of Tourism& Heritage

Department: Management Of Cultural Heritage

Couse ID: 902491 Description: Seminar

Full Course Description: This course is designed to let students do their own research in a topic which is related to their specialty as CRM students. It relies on their cumulative knowledge got through the last four years, the students will try to be more focused in a certain field in CRM. The course also provides students with the basic skills in research methodology and documentation to have their submissions and presentations more scientific.

Couse ID: 2902211 Description: Cultural Resources Management (1)

Full Course Description: Clear definition of cultural resources. The international efforts and organizations that are concerned about the protection of cultural heritage on international and local level. Main ideas of planning for the management cultural resources.

Couse ID: 2902212 Description: Cultural Resources Management (2)

Full Course Description: Review of all international regulations and legislations concerned the protection of cultural heritage. Standards and guidelines for all stages of CRM process such as identification, documentation, evaluation, planning, conservation, interpretation and promotion.

Couse ID: 2902312 Description: Heritage and Tourism Development

Full Course Description: Clarification of the concept of tourism development. The relation between conservation and management of cultural resources and development through discussing the importance of tourism and other potential economic and cultural sectors. All related partners concerned with the process towards a comprehensive management plan for a certain site or historic area. The importance of the Environmental Impact Assessment EIA in any CRM project.

Couse ID: 2902353 Description: History of Museums

Full Course Description: Introduction to the history and development of the concepts of museum and museology during the Ancient Periods, 9th to the 12th centuries, era of Renaissance, 17th -18th Century, 19th Century and the 20th Century. The international evolution on the protection of the World Heritage. The new movement of museology and museums and examine changes that led to the current state of museology and museums.

Couse ID: 2902402 Description: Fundraising and Legalization for Cultural Heritage & Tourism

Full Course Description: Introduction to the growing field of fund raising and Legalization for cultural heritage areas. Methods, techniques, and directed experience in fund raising practices. Theories of fund raising, donor motivation, legal issues and ethical considerations are highlighted. Active legislation such as Antiquities Law and Traditional heritage law in Jordan.

Couse ID: 110902111 Description: Cultural Heritage Management (1)

Full Course Description: II

Couse ID: 110902131 Description: Introduction to Museology

Full Course Description: jj

Couse ID: 110902201 Description: Tourism Planning

Full Course Description: jj

Couse ID: 110902202 Description: Cultural Tourism

Full Course Description: kk

Couse ID: 110902212 Description: Cultural Heritage Management (2)

Full Course Description: II

Couse ID: 110902213 Description: Natural Reserves Management

Full Course Description: kk

Couse ID: 110902221 Description: Archaeological Sites in Jordan

Full Course Description: II

Courses Description

College: Queen Rania'S Faculty Of Tourism& Heritage

Department: Management Of Cultural Heritage

Course ID: 110902232 Description: History of Museums

Full Course Description: ii

Course ID: 110902233 Description: Management of Museum Collections

Full Course Description: g

Course ID: 110902303 Description: Tourism Activities Management

Full Course Description: kk

Course ID: 110902314 Description: Case Studies In Cultural Cesunces

Full Course Description: jj

Course ID: 110902315 Description: Intrepretation of Archaeological Sites

Full Course Description: ;;

Course ID: 110902316 Description: Heritage and Development

Full Course Description: jj

Course ID: 110902317 Description: Heritage and Media

Full Course Description: ll

Course ID: 110902334 Description: Education in Museums

Full Course Description: jj

Course ID: 110902335 Description: Designing Galleries

Full Course Description: kk

Course ID: 110902418 Description: Intangible Heritage

Full Course Description: ;;

Course ID: 110902419 Description: Heritage and Identity

Full Course Description: ll

Course ID: 110902436 Description: Ecomuseums

Full Course Description: kk

Course ID: 110902441 Description: Fieldwork Training

Full Course Description: nn

Course ID: 110902442 Description: Research Methodology

Full Course Description: ;;

Course ID: 110902443 Description: Professional Ethics

Full Course Description: jj

Course ID: 110902444 Description: Special Sielojects in Heritage

Full Course Description: ll

Course ID: 140902113 Description: Traditional Handcrafts of Jordan

Full Course Description: ب

Course ID: 140902132 Description: Jordan Museums

Full Course Description: ل

Course ID: 140902213 Description: Management of Natural Heritage

Full Course Description: س

Courses Description

College: Queen Rania'S Faculty Of Tourism& Heritage

Department: Management Of Cultural Heritage

Course ID: 140902214 Description: Jordan Heritage

Full Course Description: ◦

Course ID: 140902215 Description: Written Heritage

Full Course Description: ي

Course ID: 140902231 Description: Archaeological Material Properities

Full Course Description:

3

Course ID: 140902236 Description: Museum Registration and Documentation

Full Course Description: ي

Course ID: 140902251 Description: Environmental Geology

Full Course Description: ل

Course ID: 140902317 Description: International Heritage

Full Course Description: ي

Course ID: 140902318 Description: Decay of Heritage Materials

Full Course Description: م

Course ID: 140902331 Description: Preventive Conservation in Museums

Full Course Description: ل

Course ID: 140902333 Description: Museum Buildings Hazards

Full Course Description: ي

Course ID: 140902335 Description: Museums and Exhibitions Design

Full Course Description: ك

Course ID: 140902336 Description: International Museums

Full Course Description: ب

Course ID: 140902338 Description: Interpretation of Museum Collections

Full Course Description: ب

Course ID: 140902411 Description: Legislation and Policies in Archaeology and Heritage

Full Course Description: 12

Course ID: 140902419 Description: Documentation of Heritage Sites and Buildings

Full Course Description: 32

Course ID: 140902431 Description: Museums Marketing

Full Course Description: ككك

Course ID: 140902432 Description: Replication of Museum Collections

Full Course Description: ب

Course ID: 140902452 Description: Museum Environment

Full Course Description: ب

Course ID: 140903315 Description: Conservation of Archeological Objects

Full Course Description: ي

Courses Description

College: Queen Rania'S Faculty Of Tourism& Heritage

Department: Management Of Cultural Heritage

Couse ID: 160902201 Description: Tourism Planning

Full Course Description: ب