

Courses Description

College: Educational Science

Department: Educational Psychology

Couse ID: 303101 Description: Family Violence

Full Course Description:

Couse ID: 303102 Description: Introduction to psychology

Full Course Description: tt

Couse ID: 303127 Description: Phsiological Psychology

Full Course Description: This course introduces students to the physiological foundation of behavior: motives and emotional behavior, sleepiness and awake, activity, biological and physiological foundations of mental operations and disorders

Couse ID: 303140 Description: Principles of Psychological & Educational Counseling

Full Course Description: This course deals with the principles of counseling in education, its concept development and relationship with other disciplines, as well as its foundations, client counselee's needs in the different age stages and the counselor's role in these stages. The course also addresses counseling techniques, skills, and educational

Couse ID: 303220 Description: Introduction to Edu. Psychology

Full Course Description: This course deals with the learner's and teacher's behavior in classroom settings, the developmental requirements related to learning and the cognitive development in particular. This course also deals with instructional objectives, learning, its concepts, theories and models, transfer of learning, information processing, motivation, intelligence and creativity.

Couse ID: 303221 Description: Psychology of Personality

Full Course Description: This course deals with personality and behavior, as well as personality theories, determinants and factors affecting its development and components. It also introduces models of behavioral disorders.

Couse ID: 303222 Description: Psychology of Differences

Full Course Description: This course deals with individual differences in abilities, and personality traits, as well as theories of the psychology of diversity. It also introduces the measurement of personal and mental differences, and shows their importance in identifying individual differences, specific and general abilities, and personality traits.

Couse ID: 303223 Description: Psychology of Childhood

Full Course Description: This course concentrates on child development during fetal stage, early and middle childhood (physically, cognitively, socially and emotionally). It also concentrates on the role of family and school in developing the child personality and problems that the child may have in these stages and their influence on his achievement.

Couse ID: 303228 Description: Experimental Psychology

Full Course Description: This course deals with evolution of science, the experimental approach, its characteristics, and its importance. It also discusses experimentation in sensation, perception, reaction time, remembering, forgetting, and learning. In addition, laboratory experiments in psychology and lab report-writing will be introduced.

Couse ID: 303229 Description: Clinical Psychology

Full Course Description: This course will introduce the concept of clinical psychology, its background and development, methods of psychological statistical clinical diagnosis: observation, interview, diagnostic profile, in addition to diagnostic tests on children, the application of clinical findings, and the preparation of case study, as well as summing up and preparing case study

Couse ID: 303241 Description: Computer Assisted Counseling

Full Course Description:

Couse ID: 303242 Description: Child Abuse

Full Course Description:

Courses Description

College: Educational Science

Department: Educational Psychology

Couse ID: 303243 Description: School Counseling

Full Course Description: This course deals with school guidance and counseling and its relationship to the school system, the counseling role, the factors affecting the counselor's role, and planning developmental, preventive and remedial school counseling programs. School counseling techniques, and issues related to school counseling

Couse ID: 303244 Description: Emotional and Behavioral Disorder

Full Course Description: This course concentrates on the concepts of emotional and behavioral disorders at the various stages of life, and its possible explanations according to the psychology schools of psychology, the patterns of emotional and behavioral disorders, remedial programs, and case studies of these disorders

Couse ID: 303260 Description: Marriage and Family Counseling

Full Course Description: This course deals with the concept of marital and family counseling, its development, types and functions of families, stable and unstable families, family and marital problems, methods of family study, evaluation skills, theories of marital and family counseling. and ethical and professional issues on counseling will be discussed.

Couse ID: 303290 Description: Introduction to Psychological and Eduational Statistic

Full Course Description: t

Couse ID: 303291 Description: Introduction to Psychological and Edcational Research

Full Course Description: tt

Couse ID: 303321 Description: Biological Psychology

Full Course Description:

Couse ID: 303323 Description: Social Psychology

Full Course Description: This course deals with the concept of social psychology, its importance in practical life, research methods in it, social interaction, its assessment, and factors affecting it, their kinds, their characteristics, factors of forming them, as well as the change that may occur to them, its reasons and results, and the studying of social behavior phenomena.

Couse ID: 303331 Description: School Guidance and Counseling

Full Course Description:

Couse ID: 303343 Description: Individual and Group Counseling

Full Course Description: This course deals with individual and group counseling, its methods and techniques according to the counseling and psychotherapy theories (Psychoanalysis, rational-emotive therapy, cognitive therapy, reality therapy, client-centered therapy, gestalt therapy, existential therapy, its diagnosis, and objectives, diagnostic information resources, data collecting tools, disease signs and symptoms, evaluation and counseling, and practical applications for different counseling cases.

Couse ID: 303344 Description: Counseling Children and Adolescents

Full Course Description: This course concentrates on characteristics of the child and adolescent according to theories of psychological, social, cognitive, and emotional development. It also deals with counseling theories that can be applied to solve problems of children and adolescents in the different social institutions. Moreover, this course presents methods of developing counseling activities for children and adolescents.

Couse ID: 303345 Description: Counseling Theories and Application

Full Course Description: This course deals with counseling, its applications, philosophical, psychological, social and educational foundations of counseling theories and their applications in the treatment of different students problems. This course also presents models of school counseling situations according to counseling theories

Courses Description

College: Educational Science

Department: Educational Psychology

Couse ID: 303346 Description: Career Counseling at School

Full Course Description: This course deals with career counseling, its fields, theories, skills of career counseling, and the relationship among knowledge, abilities, interests, attitudes, values, career choice, general abilities, specific abilities, different specialties and career counseling programs.

Couse ID: 303442 Description: Rehabilitation Counseling of Special Groups

Full Course Description: This course deals with the nature of juvenile behavior, axiology and juvenile delinquency according to biological, psychological and social theories, coping strategies with juvenile delinquency, legal and social defense, legal monitoring and juvenile institutions

Couse ID: 303443 Description: Adjustment & Mental Health

Full Course Description:

Couse ID: 303445 Description: Management and Supervision of Counseling Program

Full Course Description:

Couse ID: 303446 Description: Creativity, Giftedness and Mental Superiority

Full Course Description: Focuses on creativity, giftedness and mental superiority, their components, levels, and forms, creative thinking skills methods of identifying, developing creativity, giftedness and superiority, programs of developing creativity, giftedness and superiority, the role of the family and schools and society in developing

Couse ID: 303447 Description: Skills and Teachniques of Counseling

Full Course Description: This course focuses on the characteristics and the components of effective counseling, and the elements of effective counseling relationships, and effective counseling related job skills, such as listening and responding, counseling techniques, behavioral therapeutic strategies in counseling, applications, and miniature counseling

Couse ID: 303481 Description: Research Methods in Counseling & Psychology

Full Course Description:

Couse ID: 303499 Description: Practicum School Counseling

Full Course Description: This course deals with the applications of counseling skills and techniques in realistic situations according to the following phases: observation, participation and implementation of individual and group counseling programs for particular school problems under the supervision of the instructor.

Couse ID: 2303121 Description: Psychology

Full Course Description:

Couse ID: 2303322 Description: Psychology of Play

Full Course Description:

Couse ID: 2303426 Description: Behavior Modification

Full Course Description:

Couse ID: 2303441 Description: Juvenile Delinquency

Full Course Description:

Couse ID: 2303480 Description: Psychological and Educational Tests

Full Course Description:

Couse ID: 110303127 Description: Physiological Psychology

Full Course Description: This course introduces students to the physiological foundation of behavior: motives and emotional behavior, sleepiness and awake, activity, biological and physiological foundations of mental operations and disorders

Courses Description

College: Educational Science

Department: Educational Psychology

Couse ID: 110303140	Description: Principles of Educational and Psychological Counseling
Full Course Description:	This course deals with the principles of counseling in education, its concept development and relationship with other disciplines, as well as its foundations, client counselee's needs in the different age stages and the counselor's role in these stages. The course also addresses counseling techniques, skills, and educational
Couse ID: 110303220	Description: Introduction to Educational Psychology
Full Course Description:	This course deals with the learner's and teacher's behavior in classroom settings, the developmental requirements related to learning and the cognitive development in particular. This course also deals with instructional objectives, learning, its concepts, theories and models, transfer of learning, information processing, motivation, intelligence and creativity
Couse ID: 110303221	Description: Psychology and Personality
Full Course Description:	This course deals with personality and behavior, as well as personality theories, determinants and factors affecting its development and components. It also introduces models of behavioral disorders.
Couse ID: 110303223	Description: Psychology of Childhood and Adolescence
Full Course Description:	This course concentrates on child development during fetal stage, early and middle childhood (physically, cognitively, socially and emotionally). It also concentrates on the role of family and school in developing the child personality and problems that the child may have in these stages and their influence on his achievement.
Couse ID: 110303228	Description: Experimental Psychology
Full Course Description:	This course deals with evolution of science, the experimental approach, its characteristics, and its importance. It also discusses experimentation in sensation, perception, reaction time, remembering, forgetting, and learning. In addition, laboratory experiments in psychology and lab report-writing will be introduced.
Couse ID: 110303229	Description: Clinical Psychology
Full Course Description:	This course will introduce the concept of clinical psychology, its background and development, methods of psychological statistical clinical diagnosis: observation, interview, diagnostic profile, in addition to diagnostic tests on children, the application of clinical findings, and the preparation of case study, as well as summing up and preparing case study.
Couse ID: 110303242	Description: Theories of Counseling and their Applications
Full Course Description:	This course deals with counseling, its applications, philosophical, psychological, social and educational foundations of counseling theories and their applications in the treatment of different students problems. This course also presents models of school counseling situations according to counseling theories
Couse ID: 110303243	Description: School Counseling
Full Course Description:	This course deals with school guidance and counseling and its relationship to the school system, the counseling role, the factors affecting the counselor's role, and planning developmental, preventive and remedial school counseling programs. School counseling techniques, and issues related to school counseling
Couse ID: 110303244	Description: Emotional and Behavioral Disorder
Full Course Description:	This course concentrates on the concepts of emotional and behavioral disorders at the various stages of life, and its possible explanations according to the psychology schools of psychology, the patterns of emotional and behavioral disorders, remedial programs, and case studies of these disorders.

Courses Description

College: Educational Science

Department: Educational Psychology

Couse ID: 110303260 Description: Marital and Family Counseling

Full Course Description: This course deals with the concept of marital and family counseling, its development, types and functions of families, stable and unstable families, family and marital problems, methods of family study, evaluation skills, theories of marital and family counseling. and ethical and professional issues on counseling will be discussed.

Couse ID: 110303281 Description: Educational Research and Statistics

Full Course Description: This course deals with the concept of educational research its goals, procedures, preparation of research proposal, and action research. It includes also concepts of descriptive statistics, formulation of statistical hypotheses, and testing the hypothesis.

Couse ID: 110303321 Description: Biological Psychology

Full Course Description: This course deals with the biological foundations of human development, the human body, cells, tissues, organs and bio-system functions, nervous system, endocrine glands and their influences, psychological changes, factors that govern personal traits genetically.

Couse ID: 110303322 Description: Psychology and Play

Full Course Description: This course gets students acquainted with definition of play and its importance: Play as an instructional model in kindergarten, play as a strategy for cognitive, linguistic and social development in kindergartens, types and games that suites kindergartners, the educational rules that governs children's play.

Couse ID: 110303323 Description: Social Psychology

Full Course Description: This course deals with the concept of social psychology, its importance in practical life, research methods in it, social interaction, its assessment, and factors affecting it, their kinds, their characteristics, factors of forming them, as well as the change that may occur to them, its reasons and results, and the studying of social behavior phenomena.

Couse ID: 110303324 Description: Psychology of Diversity

Full Course Description: This course deals with individual differences in abilities, and personality traits, as well as theories of the psychology of diversity. It also introduces the measurement of personal and mental differences, and shows their importance in identifying individual differences, specific and general abilities, and personality traits.

Couse ID: 110303343 Description: Individual and Group Counseling

Full Course Description: This course deals with individual and group counseling, its methods and techniques according to the counseling and psychotherapy theories (Psychoanalysis, rational-emotive therapy, cognitive therapy, reality therapy, client-centered therapy, gestalt therapy, existential therapy, its diagnosis, and objectives, diagnostic information resources, data collecting tools, disease signs and symptoms, evaluation and counseling, and practical applications for different counseling cases.

Couse ID: 110303344 Description: Children and Adolescents Counseling

Full Course Description: This course concentrates on characteristics of the child and adolescent according to theories of psychological, social, cognitive, and emotional development. It also deals with counseling theories that can be applied to solve problems of children and adolescents in the different social institutions. Moreover, this course presents methods of developing counseling activities for children and adolescents.

Couse ID: 110303346 Description: Behavior Modification

Full Course Description: This course introduces students to behavioral theory and its applications in solving students' problems, principles and behavior modification, its stages: identifying the problem, setting, goals, behavioral functional analysis, planning and implementing laws of behavior therapy in classroom and counseling situations.

Courses Description

College: Educational Science

Department: Educational Psychology

Couse ID: 110303347 Description: Principles of Career Counseling

Full Course Description: This course deals with career counseling, its fields, theories, skills of career counseling, and the relationship among knowledge, abilities, interests, attitudes, values, career choice, general abilities, specific abilities, different specialties and career counseling programs.

Couse ID: 110303362 Description: Abuse and Violence Against Children

Full Course Description: I

Couse ID: 110303363 Description: Adjustment and Mental Health

Full Course Description: This course includes definition and adjustment concepts, the role of family and school in mental and social adjustment, especially the decisive events in the child's life. It also deals with some psychological and behavioral disorders and implementing effective methods to deal with them

Couse ID: 110303364 Description: Creativity, Giftedness and Mental Superiority

Full Course Description: Focuses on creativity, giftedness and mental superiority, their components, levels, and forms, creative thinking skills methods of identifying, developing creativity, giftedness and superiority, programs of developing creativity, giftedness and superiority, the role of the family and schools and society in developing

Couse ID: 110303441 Description: Juvenile Delinquency

Full Course Description: This course deals with the nature of juvenile behavior, axiology and juvenile delinquency according to biological, psychological and social theories, coping strategies with juvenile delinquency, legal and social defense, legal monitoring and juvenile institutions.

Couse ID: 110303442 Description: Rehabilitation Counseling

Full Course Description: This course focuses on the nature and the concept of rehabilitation counseling services, its history, its philosophy, local and international legislations on rehabilitation procedures of occupational therapy in public and private sectors, rehabilitation counseling, and the role of counselor in working with physical, emotional, social and mental abilities.

Couse ID: 110303445 Description: Organizing and Managing Counseling Program

Full Course Description: This course deals with planning, organizing, and managing skills of school counseling programs. It also includes issues related to leadership, decision making, and the role of the workers, the school administration, the directors of education, and the ministry of education in counseling program at schools.

Couse ID: 110303447 Description: Skills and Techniques of Counseling

Full Course Description: This course focuses on the characteristics and the components of effective counseling, and the elements of effective counseling relationships, and effective counseling related job skills, such as listening and responding, counseling techniques, behavioral therapeutic strategies in counseling, applications, and miniature counseling

Couse ID: 110303448 Description: Selected Topics in Counseling

Full Course Description: In This course various topics in counseling are selected for advanced study, based on the most recent theories and practices in the field of counseling. This is to pursue additional expertise and depth in these topics.

Couse ID: 110303480 Description: Psychological and Educational Tests

Full Course Description: This course deals with psychological and educational tests, readiness and mental abilities tests, cognitive and motor skills, vocal and personal tendencies, general and specific achievement tests, tests applications in counseling, as well as the application and analysis of tests using educational statistical analysis programs.

Courses Description

College: Educational Science

Department: Educational Psychology

Couse ID: 110303499 Description: Practicum in School Counseling

Full Course Description: This course deals with the applications of counseling skills and techniques in realistic situations according to the following phases: observation, participation and implementation of individual and group counseling programs for particular school problems under the supervision of the instructor

Couse ID: 150303140 Description: Psychological counseling principles

Full Course Description: This course deals with the principles of counseling in education, its concept development and relationship with other disciplines, as well as its foundations, client counselee?s needs in the different age stages and the counselor's role in these stages. The course also addresses counseling techniques, skills, and educational

Couse ID: 150303181 Description: Descriptive statistics

Full Course Description: The main aim of this course is to discuss and present the statistics in educational and psychological researches. Presenting the main statistical methods central tendency (mean, median, Standard deviation and correlation factors (person and Spearman) and regression.

Couse ID: 150303223 Description: Psychology of Development

Full Course Description: This course concentrates on child development during fetal stage, early and middle childhood (physically, cognitively, socially and emotionally). It also concentrates on the role of family and school in developing the child personality and problems that the child may have in these stages and their influence on his achievement.

Couse ID: 150303263 Description: Mental health

Full Course Description: This course includes definition and adjustment concepts, the role of family and school in mental and social adjustment, especially the decisive events in the child's life. It also deals with some psychological and behavioral disorders and implementing effective methods to deal with them.

Couse ID: 150303282 Description: Introduction in educational and psychological research

Full Course Description: This course deals with the concept of educational research its goals, procedures, preparation of research proposal, and action research. It includes also concepts of descriptive statistics, formulation of statistical hypotheses, and testing the hypothesis.

Couse ID: 150303322 Description: Play counseling

Full Course Description: This course gets students acquainted with definition of play and its importance and counseling implementations: Play as an instructional model in kindergarten, play as a strategy for cognitive, linguistic and social development in kindergartens, types and games that suites kindergartners, the educational rules that governs children?s play. On the other hand this course aims to introduce play as a therapeutic and diagnosis tool for children psychological and behavioral problems.

Couse ID: 150303343 Description: Group counseling fundamentals

Full Course Description: This course mainly deals with group counseling and its methods and techniques according to the group counseling and psychotherapy theories (Psychoanalysis, behavioral therapy, rational-emotive therapy, cognitive therapy, reality therapy, client-centered therapy, gestalt therapy, existential therapy), the developmental stages of counseling group, the leadership, leader roles at different group stages, co- leader, different techniques for group counseling.

Couse ID: 150303364 Description: Gifted counseling

Full Course Description: This course focuses on creativity, giftedness and their psychological and social problems and concerns. The counseling role in reducing their psychological stress and maladjustment. Counseling tools and methods for families and schools.

Courses Description

College: Educational Science

Department: Educational Psychology

Couse ID: 150303441 Description: Juveniles and delinquency counseling

Full Course Description: This course deals with the nature of juvenile behavior, axiology and juvenile delinquency according to biological, psychological and social theories, coping strategies with juvenile delinquency, legal and social defense, legal monitoring and juvenile institutions. The recent counseling methods for juveniles.

Couse ID: 150303447 Description: Counseling skills

Full Course Description: This course focuses on the characteristics and the components of effective counseling, and the elements of effective counseling relationships, and effective counseling related job skills, such as listening and responding, counseling techniques, behavioral therapeutic strategies in counseling, applications, and miniature counseling

Couse ID: 150303449 Description: Psychological stress

Full Course Description: The main aim of this course is introduce the psychological stress concept, theories, coping skills, effects (physiological, social, marital, vocational and emotional effects and consequences) and its moderated factors. Discuss the main stress theories (GAS, Spielberger, fight or coping Syndrome need ?stress? ect). The main course space should present the possible coping skills with stress (physical activities, relaxation, supportive social net work, cognitive restrictions, Irrational beliefs defeating? etc).

Couse ID: 150303450 Description: Counseling readings in English language

Full Course Description: This course contains a discussion of different text (researches, articles, books? ect) in English language. In addition to introduce the main psychological and counseling terminologies in English language.

Couse ID: 150303480 Description: Psychological tests

Full Course Description: This course deals with psychological and educational tests, readiness and mental abilities tests, cognitive and motor skills, vocal and personal tendencies, general and specific achievement tests, tests applications in counseling, as well as the application and analysis of tests using educational statistical analysis programs.

Couse ID: 150303481 Description: Counseling of Domestic Violence victims

Full Course Description: This course contains a discussion for the domestic violence or Gender based Violence (GBV). Its main social, psychological, physical and marital negative consequences. The possible supportive methods, theories, collaborative work within different disciplines.

Couse ID: 150303498 Description: Practicum in psychological counseling(1)

Full Course Description: This course deal with the applications and implementations of counseling skills, techniques and theories in actual settings, situations and fields (schools and organizations according to the following phases: observation, participation and implementation of individual and group counseling programs for particular school problems under direct supervisor supervision

Couse ID: 150303499 Description: Practicum in psychological counseling (2)

Full Course Description: This course deal with the applications and implementations of counseling skills, techniques and theories in actual settings, situations and fields (schools and organizations according to the following phases: observation, participation and implementation of individual and group counseling programs for particular school problems under direct supervisor supervision

Couse ID: 1903031264 Description: Emotional and Behavioral Disorder

Full Course Description: This course concentrates on the concepts of emotional and behavioral disorders at the various stages of life, and its possible explanations according to the psychology schools of psychology, the patterns of emotional and behavioral disorders, remedial programs, and case studies of these disorders.

Courses Description

College: Educational Science
Department: Educational Psychology

Couse ID: 1903031347	Description: Children and Adolescents Counseling
Full Course Description:	This course concentrates on characteristics of the child and adolescent according to theories of psychological, social, cognitive, and emotional development. It also deals with counseling theories that can be applied to solve problems of children and adolescents in the different social institutions. Moreover, this course presents methods of developing counseling activities for children and adolescents.
Couse ID: 1903032442	Description: Rehabilitation Counseling
Full Course Description:	This course focuses on the nature and the concept of rehabilitation counseling services, its history, its philosophy, local and international legislations on rehabilitation procedures of occupational therapy in public and private sectors, rehabilitation counseling, and the role of counselor in working with physical, emotional, social and mental abilities.